

▼ 9:00 a.m.

Cold War and Regional Transformation: Out West and Down South

Presiding: Bruce J. Schulman, Boston University

Lyndon B. Johnson's Vision of a Cold War West
Kevin Fernlund, University of Missouri, St. Louis

The Cold War Comes South: A View From the Grassroots
Kari Frederickson, University of Alabama

Comment: Karen R. Merrill, Williams College, and Bruce J. Schulman

Segregated Spaces, Exotic Places: Uncovering the Hidden Histories of Twentieth Century Travel and Tourism

Presiding: Mary Corbin Sies, University of Maryland, College Park

Your Blues Ain't Like Mine: Narratives of African American Women, Movement, and Chicken
Psyche Willaims-Forsen, McDaniel College

Tourism and Landscapes of Segregation in Rural Virginia
Ann E. Denkler, Shenandoah University

The Exotic and the Exclusive: The History of Miami Beach as a Tourist Mecca
Robin Bachin, University of Miami

Comment: Angel David Nieves, University of Maryland, College Park

How Revolutionary Has the History of Child Adoption Been?

Presiding: E. Wayne Carp, Pacific Lutheran University

From Reinforcing to Revolutionizing the Traditional Concept of Family
Elizabeth Bartholet, Harvard University

Making Adoption as Real as the "Real Thing": The Case for Continuity in Adoption History
Ellen Herman, University of Oregon

A Revolution, Inside and Out
Adam Pertman, Evan B. Donaldson Adoption Institute

Comment: Barbara Melosh, George Mason University

Memory, History, Performance

Presiding: Della Pollock, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Staging The Line: The Creation of a Play about the Patrick Cudahy Meat Packing Strike of 1987-1989
Michael Gordon, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Performing Pasts into Presence: Cuttings from the Life-Memories of a Daughter of Vietnam
Rivka Eisner, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Touchable Stories and the Infrastructural Imagination
Shannon Jackson, University of California, Berkeley

Comment: The Audience

College Board
Breakfast

7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

Presiding: Uma Venkateswaran,
Educational Testing Service

*Filling the Holes, Making it
Global, Balancing the Parts:
Rethinking American History*
Pauline Maier, Massachusetts
Institute of Technology

Saturday Morning
Meetings

7:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.
National Coalition for History
Policy Board Meeting

8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
2005 OAH Annual Meeting
Program Committee

8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
JAH Editorial Board Breakfast
LAWCHA Board Meeting

9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
OAH Committee on Women
AHA/OAH Joint Committee on
Part-time and Adjunct
Employment

Screening History

9:00 a.m.
Title to be announced

History
Memory

Offsite Session

The session, "Late Nineteenth-Century Irish Migrations and Adaptations to Life in North America," will be held at the Massachusetts Historical Society. For more information, see page 14.

Late Nineteenth-Century Irish Migrations and Adaptations to Life in North America

Cosponsored by the Immigration and Ethnic History Society

Presiding: Kerby A. Miller, University of Missouri

Irish Snowbirds of the Nineteenth Century: Seasonal Migrations and Survival among Irish Ship Laborers of Quebec City 1853-1889
Robert John Grace, Université de Laval

"Radically and Essentially the Same": Irish Nationalism and American Labor Radicalism in Gilded Age New York
Edward T. O'Donnell, College of the Holy Cross

Married Women's Lives: Constructions of Class in Nineteenth-Century Chicago
Patricia Kelleher, Kutztown University

Comment: David Brundage, University of California, Santa Cruz, and Kevin Kenny, Boston College

A Separate Place: The Schools P. S. du Pont Built

Presiding: Roger Horowitz, Hagley Museum and Library

Jeanne Nutter, Bloomfield College

Comment: Ann Larabee, Michigan State University

Guns in Early America: Ownership, Meaning, and Violence

Presiding: Edward M. Cook, University of Chicago

Evaluating the Place of Guns in Early New England
Amy A. Cox, University of California, Los Angeles

Guns Along the River: The Possession and Use of Firearms in Western Massachusetts, 1660-1800
Kevin Sweeney, Amherst College

A Republic Under Arms: Guns in Early American Political Culture
Robert H. Churchill, University of Hartford

Gun Violence in American History
Randolph A. Roth, The Ohio State University

Comment: Gloria Lund Main, University of Colorado

Urban Strategies: Local Activism and the Civil Rights Movement

Presiding: Henry L. Taylor, University at Buffalo

White Violence, Black Veterans, and Equal Housing in Post-World War II Chicago
Lionel Kimble, Wabash College

Recreation and Race in the Post-War City: Buffalo's 1956 Crystal Beach Riot
Victoria W. Wolcott, University of Rochester

Social Welfare and Civil Rights: The Atlanta Urban League
Jennifer F. McCarley, Florida State University

Comment: Karen Ferguson, Simon Fraser University, and Henry L. Taylor

Boarding Houses and the Commodification of the Nineteenth-Century American Home

Presiding: Andrew K. Sandoval-Strausz, University of New Mexico

"A Paying Investment . . . A Welcoming Space:" Designing the Genteel Boarding House

Laura B. Driemeyer, Boston University

Making "A Home for Some of the Finest People": The Politics of the Genteel Boarding House in Nineteenth-Century Boston

Susan L. Porter, Society for Preservation of New England

The Boardinghouse Reach and Other Stories: Food and Work in Nineteenth-Century Urban Boardinghouses

Wendy Gamber, Indiana University, Bloomington

Comment: Andrew K. Sandoval-Strausz

Roundtable: The Long Civil Rights Movement: The Movement Past and Present

Moderator: Darlene Clark Hine, Michigan State University

Civil Rights and the Labor Movement: Taking a Long View

William Powell Jones, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Where Does the Story End? Local Studies and the Periodization of the Civil Rights Movement

Tracy K'Meyer, University of Louisville

What Was Lost: African American Accounts of School Desegregation

James L. Leloudis, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and George W. Noblit, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Between Memory and History: Autobiographies of the Civil Rights Movement

Kathryn L. Nasstrom, University of San Francisco

Feminist Ferment and Institutional Resistance

Presiding: Judith Ezekiel, l'Université de Toulouse-le-Mirail

The Challenges to Male Yale: Feminism and the Coeducation Process, 1968-1973

Amy Kesselman, State University of New York, New Paltz

Feminist Daycare Initiatives in New York City, 1968-1973

Rosalyn Baxandall, State University of New York, Old Westbury

Comment: Sheila Rowbotham, University of Manchester, and Judith Ezekiel

A walking tour of the 1797 Otis House will follow the session, "Boarding Houses and the Commodification of the Nineteenth-Century American Home." For more information see page 9.

Offsite Session

The roundtable, "The Long Civil Rights Movement: The Movement Past and Present," will be held at the Boston Public Library. For more information, see page 14.

A key to the sessions . . .

Focus
on Teaching

State-
of-the-Field

Graduate
Student

Public
History

Film
Screening

History and
Memory Series

Measuring and Managing the Individual: Psychology's Expanding Domain in Postwar America

Presiding: Jill Morawski, Wesleyan University

No Exit: Intelligence and Its Critics in Postwar America
John Carson, University of Michigan

"Danger! Pseudo-Psychologist at Work!": Psychology and Personnel Management in the Postwar Corporation
Tom Chappellear, University of Chicago

Testing the Limits: Consensus Culture and the Creative Personality
Thea Petchler, Art Center College of Design

Comment: Sarah E. Igo, University of Pennsylvania

Sexual Revolutions and the Twentieth-Century American Metropolis

Presiding: Peter Boag, University of Colorado, Boulder

Male-impersonators in San Francisco's Queer Nightclubs, 1933-1945
Nan Alamilla Boyd, University of Colorado, Boulder

The Rise of the Postwar American Sex District
Josh Sides, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

"A veritable handbook for the young urban male": Playboy's Idealized Vision of the City at the Vanguard of the Sexual and Civil Rights Revolutions
Marjorie Bryer, University of Minnesota

Comment: Peter Boag

Beyond the Literary Turn in Women's History: Research and Teaching on Women and Social Movements

Presiding: Maureen Flanagan, Michigan State University

Where is Women's History Going? An Overview of Three Years of Scholarship, 1998-2000
Gerda Lerner, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Teaching Undergraduates with Online Documents: Women, Work, and Leisure, 1870-1930
April Schultz, Illinois Wesleyan University

Sources on Women and Social Movements for Research and Teaching
Thomas Dublin, State University of New York, Binghamton

Comment: Elsa Barkley Brown, University of Maryland, College Park

The Making of the Pacific World

Presiding: Vicki Ruiz, University of California, Irvine

The Pacific World: Social and Ecological Convergences in the Pacific Basin, 1770-1850
David Igler, University of Utah

Screening History

11:15 a.m.
2003 OAH Erik Barnow
Award: Honorable Mention

Strange Fruit
Oniera Films, LLC

Poor Company for Angels in Heaven: Maritime Labor Identity in the Pacific, 1800-1900
John Grider, University of Colorado, Boulder

Working the Streets: Historical Origins of Day Labor
Abel Valenzuela, University of California, Los Angeles

Comment: Madeline Hsu, San Francisco State University

American Empire, American Freedom: Reassessing War and Empire in United States History

Presiding: Eric Foner, Columbia University

Fred Anderson, University of Colorado, Boulder
Andrew R. L. Cayton, Miami University (Ohio)

Comment: Kathleen Brown, University of Pennsylvania; Eric Foner; David Montejano, University of California; Amy Kaplan, University of Pennsylvania; and Michael Sherry, Northwestern University

Theodore Roosevelt Goes Public: Interpreting the Theodore Roosevelt Inaugural Site

Sponsored by the OAH Committee on Public History

Presiding: Felix L. Armfield, Buffalo State College

Molly Quackenbush, Theodore Roosevelt Inaugural Site
Lenora M. Henson, Theodore Roosevelt Inaugural Site
Mark Lozo, Theodore Roosevelt Inaugural Site

World War II, Oral History, and the Web: The Benefits and Dangers of Web-Based Teaching and Research

Presiding: J. Douglas Smith, Occidental College

Sandra S. Holyoak, Rutgers Oral History Archives World War II
Max Friedman, Florida State University

Comment: Richard Jensen, University of Illinois, Chicago, and Brian H. Balogh, University of Virginia

History Departments and Teacher Education: Past, Present, and Future

Presiding: Frederick D. Drake, Illinois State University

James Conant's Orphans: A Short Critical History of Methods Instruction in Academic Departments
Russ Olwell, Eastern Michigan University

Paradoxical Paradigms: A Comparative Study of Discipline-Based and Education-Based History Teacher Education
D. Antonio Cantu, Ball State University

A Brief History of Western Michigan University's Preparation of Secondary History Teachers
Wilson J. Warren, Western Michigan University

Comment: Frederick D. Drake

Saturday Luncheons 11:15 a.m. - 12:45 p.m.

Agricultural History Society Presidential Luncheon

Presiding: Deborah Fitzgerald, AHS President-Elect, 2003-2004

Was There Ever a "Golden Age" in American Farming? The Family Farm—Myth or Reality?
Jeremy Atack, AHS President

Focus on Teaching

Presiding: Valinda W. Littlefield, University of South Carolina, Columbia

Understanding the Achievement Gap: A Historical Context
James D. Anderson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations

Presiding: President Mark A. Stoler, University of Vermont

American Cold War Diplomacy: A Critique
Fredrik Logevall, University of California, Santa Barbara

Labor and Working Class History Association

Presiding: James Green, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Speaker: Alice Kessler-Harris, Columbia University

Preparing Projects for the Women and Social Movements Website

Kathryn Sklar and Thomas Dublin, codirectors of the Women and Social Movements website, invite historians to learn how to prepare documentary projects for the website. To attend this complimentary lunch, contact <mdoak@binghamton.edu>.

Presiding: Kathryn Sklar, State University of New York, Binghamton

Thomas Dublin, State University of New York, Binghamton
Joyce Antler, Brandeis University
Victoria Brown, Grinnell College

Saturday Afternoon Meetings

1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.
OAH Newsletter Advisory Board

1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.
OAH Executive Board

Screening History

1:00 p.m.
Title to be announced.

Labor and Working Class History Association Cosponsored Session 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Becoming a Woman Labor Activist: Personal Histories

Moderator: Venus Green, City University of New York

Patricia Reeve, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Kathleen Casavant, Massachusetts AFL-CIO
Alison Bowens, Women's Institute for Leadership Development
Deborah Sullivan, Service Employees International Union, Local 285

▼ 1:00 p.m.

Varieties of American Incarceration during World War II

Presiding: Roger Daniels, University of Cincinnati

Transnational Reach: Conflict and Coercion in the Justice Department Camps for Germans from Latin America
Max Friedman, Florida State University

Gendered Interventions: Americanization and Protestant Evangelism under Japanese American Incarceration
John Howard, King's College, University of London

In the "Golden Cage": German POWs and African Americans, 1942-1946
Matthias Reiss, German Historical Institute

Comment: Susan L. Smith, University of Alberta, Canada, and Roger Daniels

State of the Field: Ethnic Studies and History

Presiding: Evelyn Hu-Dehart, Brown University

Evelyn Hu-Dehart
Vijay Prashad, Trinity College
Ramón Gutiérrez, University of California, San Diego
Patricia Penn-Hilden, University of California

From Dance Halls to the Halls of Justice: The Interracial Social Worlds of Mid-Nineteenth Century America

Presiding: Daniel Czitrom, Mount Holyoke College

(Il)licit Relations: The Antebellum Courthouse as an Interracial Social Space, Baltimore, Maryland
Martha Jones, University of Michigan

Dancing Across the Color Line: A Story of Mixtures and Markets from New York's Five Points
James W. Cook, University of Michigan

Comment: John Kuo Wei Tchen, New York University, and Daniel Czitrom

Rethinking the Rock Revolution: New Work on Rock and Roll History

Presiding: Howard Brick, Washington University

Unintentional Rebellion: White Memphis Teenagers and the 1950s Rock and Roll Racial "Revolution"
Laura Helper-Ferris, University of Arkansas Press

"Rock Chicks": Naming, Experience and Gender in Rock in the 1960s and 1970s
Kathryn Kerr Fenn, Duke University

A key to the sessions . . .

Focus on Teaching

State-of-the-Field

Graduate Student

Public History

Film Screening

History and Memory Series

Sound Civics: Rock Criticism and a Rock Music "Public Sphere" in Sixties America
Michael J. Kramer, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Staging the Seventies: Arena Rock and the Politics of Performance
Steve Waksman, Smith College

Comment: Howard Brick

The Politics of Writing Memories of Race

Presiding: Earl Lewis, University of Michigan

Memories of Color, Nation, and Race in the U.S. and British Caribbean
Martha Hodes, New York University

Historical Memories of Japanese American Redress
Alice Yang-Murray, University of California, Santa Cruz

Black Nationalist Memory and Homeless Protest in Newark in the 1980s
Kevin Mumford, University of Iowa

Comment: Nick Salvatore, Cornell University

University Admissions Policies and the Supreme Court: From Desegregation to Affirmative Action to the End of Racial Preferences

Presiding: Susan Poulson, University of Scranton

Brown v. Board and Higher Education: Federal Courts, Segregated Universities, and Undergraduate Enrollment, 1954-1964
Peter Wallenstein, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

Adjusting to Change: Historically Black Lincoln University (Pennsylvania) after the Brown Decision
Leslie Miller-Bernal, Wells College, and Susan Gunn Pevar, Lincoln University

Affirmative Action at Harvard, Yale, and Princeton Universities, 1960s to 2001
Marcia G. Synnott, University of South Carolina

Comment: Lawrence McAndrews, St. Norbert College, and Susan Poulson

Southern Black Radicalisms

Presiding: Rachel Rubin, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Go into the Courts and Fight it Out
Shawn Alexander, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Louisiana Reds: The Southern Roots of Black Marxism
Alan Wald, University of Michigan

The Influence of the Popular Front in the South on the Black Arts Movement
James Smethurst, University of Massachusetts

Comment: Gerald C. Horne, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and Rachel Rubin

History
Memory

PH

Participants on the panel "University Admissions Policies and the Supreme Court: From Desegregation to Affirmative Action to the End of Racial Preferences," will have materials available online.

Exploring Critical Moments in American History for School and Public Audiences: A Roundtable Discussion of NEH-Funded Projects
Cosponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities

Moderator: Dwandalyn Reece, National Endowment for the Humanities

The American Revolution and American Peoples: A Comparative Inquiry for the K-12 Classroom
Neal Salisbury, Smith College

Lewis and Clark Meet the West: A Public Program Series for Rural Communities
Michael Bouman, Missouri Humanities Council

Revisiting Typhoid Mary and Her Times: From Book to PBS Documentary
Judith Walzer Leavitt, University of Wisconsin, Madison, and Nancy Porter, Nancy Porter Productions, Inc.

States' Rights and Constitutional Authority in the Twentieth-Century American South

Presiding: Melvin I. Urofsky, Virginia Commonwealth University

States' Rights: Making State Governments Sovereign in the American South, 1900-1945
Christopher R. Waldrep, San Francisco State University

What the Civil Rights Movement Was up Against: Constitutionalism and the Political Culture of White Supremacy, 1948-1965
David Lincoln Chappell, University of Arkansas

With the Aura of Sophistication and Respectability: The Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission and its Use of Constitutional Discourse Against the Civil Rights Movement
Yasuhiro Katagiri, Tokai University (Japan)

Comment: Lou Falkner Williams, Kansas State University, and Daryl Michael Scott, Howard University

Cold War Excursions: Representing America Abroad

Presiding: Andrew Jon Rotter, Colgate University

An International Adventure in Good Will: Promoting Global Citizenship in the Reader's Digest, 1945-1954
Naoko Shibusawa, University of Hawaii, Manoa

Affectionate Husbands and Generous Fathers: American Military Men Overseas in the 1950s-1960s
Donna Alvah, St. Lawrence University

Cracks in the Wall: The American Quaker Mission in Berlin in the 1960s
Petra Goedde, Princeton University

Comment: Christina Klein, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Conversation: Historians Writing Fiction

Presiding: Michael Ebner, Lake Forest College

Peter M. Rutkoff, Kenyon College
Author of Shadow Ball, A Novel of Chicago and Baseball (2001)

Virginia Scharff, University of New Mexico
Author of Brown-Eyed Girl, A Novel of Suspense (2000)

Peter Quinn, AOL Time Warner
Author of Banished Children of Eve (1994)

Comment: Lizabeth Cohen, Harvard University

Show Me the Money: Funding Opportunities and Tips for Graduate Students

Hadass Sheffer, Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation
Cynthia Verba, Harvard University
Conrad Wright, Massachusetts Historical Society

Sexual Revolutions, Knowledge Revolutions: American Youth and Sexual Education in the Twentieth Century

Presiding: Janice M. Irvine, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

"My Knowledge Has Helped Me Immensely": Sexual Information and Social Change in the 1920s
Miriam Reumann, Brown University

"Elephants and Butterflies": Inventing Sex Education at the University of North Carolina
Johanna Schoen, University of Iowa

High School Girls and Sexual Maturity in the Mid-Twentieth Century
Susan Freeman, Minnesota State University, Mankato

Comment: Janice M. Irvine

If These Walls Could Talk: Women's Historic Sites as Resources for Research and Teaching

Presiding: Sarah Olson, Roosevelt-Vanderbilt Historical Sites

"The Raft at Tilsit": John Kennedy comes to Val-Kill to court Eleanor Roosevelt and Another Series of Myths is Born, or What Does Val-Kill Tell Us about the Election of 1960?
Allida M. Black, George Washington University

Beyond Simple Description: Using Tangible Resources to further Research and Education in Women's History
Heather A. Huyck, College of William and Mary

With Heritage So Rich: Using historic sites and Places to Teach American History to All
Kate Stevenson, National Trust for Historic Preservation

Comment: John Maounis, National Park Service

GS

A⁺ PH

Offsite Session

The session, "A Thirty-Year Perspective on the Garrity School Desegregation Decision and the Boston Order: Teaching the Case and its History to High School and College Students," will be held at the Boston Public Library. For more information, see page 14.

A Thirty-Year Perspective on the Garrity School Desegregation Decision and the Boston Order: Teaching the Case and its History to High School and College Students

Sponsored by Facing History and Ourselves and Primary Source Center for Teaching and Learning

Moderator: Anna Roelofs, Primary Source Center for Teaching and Learning

Gerald Gill, Tufts University

Discussants: Yvonne Powell, Boston Latin School; Annamarie Boudreau, Boston Education Collaborative; Sandy Simpson, Public Service Academy at the Dorchester Educational Center; Richard Fulton, Boston Latin School

School, Museum, and Academy: A Teaching American History Program Bridges the Gap

Presiding: Barbara Mathews, Pocumtuck Valley Memorial

The Evaluator's Perspective
Marilyn McArthur, Memorial Hall Museum

The Museum's Perspective
Barbara Mathews

The Teacher's Perspective
Janice Dore, Frontier Regional High School

The Scholar's Perspective
Barry O'Connell, Amherst College

People, Places, and Primary Sources: New Approaches to Teaching the American Revolution

Presiding: Nancy Toff, Oxford University Press

The American Revolution: A History in Documents
Steven C. Bullock, Worcester Polytechnic Institute

Samuel Adams: Son of Liberty, Father of Revolution
Benjamin H. Irvin, McNeil Center for Early American Studies

Race and Freedom: Teaching the American Revolution and its Antislavery Implications
James O. Horton, George Washington University

Comment: The Audience

▼ 3:30 p.m.

Interracialism, Blackness, and Whiteness, Past and Present

Presiding: Kimberly McClai DaCosta, Harvard University

“The Hope of the World”: The Support for “Amalgamation” Among Black Abolitionists
Tavia Nyong’o, Yale University

Plessy’s Antecedents: The Octoroon and Louisiana Civil Rights Law, 1869-1896
Diana I. Williams, Harvard University

The Power of Parenting: Partus Sequitur Ventrem and Racial Classification
Joshua Woodfork, University of Maryland

Comment: Peggy Pascoe, University of Oregon, and Kimberly McClai DaCosta

Contests of Memory: Ordinary Southerners and Historical Memory in the Twentieth Century

Presiding: Chad Berry, Maryville College

Forgotten Activists: African American Educators and the Memory of the Civil Rights Movement
Ann Chirhart, Indiana State University

“Mirations” or Mockeries: Cooks, Employers, and Memory in the New South
Rebecca Sharpless, Baylor University

Leaving the Land: Memory and the Twentieth-Century Diaspora of Rural Southerners
Melissa Walker, Converse College

Comment: Gaines Foster, Louisiana State University, and Chad Berry

Charting Chauncey’s Gay Male World: Reflections on the Tenth Anniversary of Gay New York

Presiding: Christine Stansell, Princeton University

“Which One of them Took the Part of the Woman . . . ?”: Sodomy, Gender, and Power in the United States Navy, 1895-1920
Michael Hussey, Independent Scholar

Fine Manly Fellows and Women’s Work: The Gay Male World at Bellevue Hospital’s School for Male Nurses
Charles McGraw, University of Connecticut

Comment: Kevin P. Murphy, University of Minnesota, and George Chauncey, University of Chicago

Saturday Afternoon Meetings

4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.
Ad hoc Committee on the Annual Meeting
Informal meeting of Historians of American Communism. All are welcome to attend, participate, and share research information.

5:30 to 6:30 p.m.
Women’s Web Camp

5:30 to 7:00 p.m.
Immigration and Ethnic History Society 2004 Annual Meeting
The general business meeting will follow the report of the Journal of American Ethnic History.

Screening History

3:30 p.m.
2004 OAH Erik Barnow Award Winning Film
Title to be Announced
(second screening)

A key to the sessions . . .

Focus on Teaching

State-of-the-Field

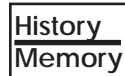

Graduate Student

Public History

Film Screening

History and Memory Series

Affirmative Action in Recent American History

Presiding: Joan Hoff, Montana State University

The Backlash and Demise of Affirmative Action
Terry H. Anderson, Texas A&M University

The Emergence of Affirmative Action during the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations
Paul Moreno, Hillsdale College

Affirmative Action under Richard Nixon and Jimmy Carter
Dean Kotlowksi, Salisbury University

Comment: Joan Hoff

The Revolution Will Be Filmed: Revolutions at the Movies in the Twentieth Century

Presiding: Robert Schultz, Illinois Wesleyan University

The French Revolution in American Film
Casey Harison, University of Southern Indiana

Bow, Boop, and Bestiality: The Limits of the 1920s Sexual Revolution
Russell L. Johnson, University of Otago

Patriots, Villains, and the Quest for Liberty: American Film and the Depiction of the American Revolution
Nancy L. Rhoden, University of Western Ontario

Comment: Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Revolutions in Twentieth-Century American Law

Presiding: Mark V. Tushnet, Georgetown University

Lochner v. New York: A Revolution in Constitutional Structure
Paul Kens, Texas State University, San Marcos

Roe v. Wade as a Revolution in American Law
N.E.H. Hull, Rutgers School of Law, and Peter Hoffer, University of Georgia

Brown v. Board of Education as a Revolution in American Law
Robert J. Cottrol, George Washington University

Comment: Mark V. Tushnet

Open Forum with the OAH Ad Hoc Committee on Intellectual Integrity

Presiding: Karen Halttunen, University of California, Davis

Richard J. Blackett, Vanderbilt University
Laura F. Edwards, Duke University
Michael Kammen, Cornell University
Kate Torrey, University of North Carolina Press
Sandra Gioia Treadway, Library of Virginia

Commodity Culture in an Age of Empire

Presiding: Mari Yoshihara, University of Hawaii, Manoa

Marketing Cigarettes, Making Whiteness: The Creation of a Transnational Corporate Culture in the 1920s

Nan Enstad, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Commodity Racism and American Commercial Imperialism

Mona Domosh, Dartmouth College

Entertaining Difference: The Popular Geography of Food, 1865-1920

Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Comment: Laura Wexler, Yale University

Creating CD-ROM and Web-based Databases of Cultural History

Moderator: Kathryn Fuller-Seeley, Virginia Commonwealth University

The Williamsburg Theatre Project: Creating a Collaborative Worldwide Web Database

Robert Nelson and Arthur Knight, The College of William Mary

Yester Year's Wonderlands: Introducing Modernism to America

Lauren Rabinovitz, University of Iowa

Roundtable: Methods and Meaning of Social History: "Work, Culture, and Society" at Thirty

Sponsored by the Labor and Working Class History Association

Moderator: Sean Wilentz, Princeton University

Caroline W. Merithew, University of Dayton

David Roediger, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Nell Painter, Princeton University

Venus Green, City College of New York

Bruce Levine, University of California, Santa Cruz

Susan Porter Benson, University of Connecticut

New Directions in the Study of the Body

Presiding: Joan Jacobs Brumberg, Cornell University

Menstruation in Twentieth-Century United States: Envisioning the "Modern" Middle Class Body

Lara Freidenfelds, Harvard University

"Mammy" Photographs: Race and the Family Romance of the Old South

Elizabeth Kuebler-Wolf, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne

Comment: John F. Kasson, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

The "Third Way" in Nineteenth-Century America: Alternative Visions of the American Liberal Tradition

Presiding: Barbara Packer, University of California, Los Angeles

"To Be Free Themselves Must Strike the First Blow": The Romantic Liberalism of Antislavery Intellectuals in the 1850s

Ethan Kytte, University of North Carolina

"Umbilical Cords to Marx": The New York Tribune and the Liberal Socialist Tradition
Adam-Max Tuchinsky, University of Southern Maine

The Failure of the Transcendental Revolution: Questioning Individualism in Antebellum New England
David J. Voelker, University of Wisconsin, Green Bay

Comment: James T. Kloppenberg, Harvard University

State of the Field: Diplomatic History

Presiding: Robert D. Schulzinger, University of Colorado, Boulder

Imperialism and Culture
Mary A. Renda, Mount Holyoke College

New Departures in Foreign Relations History
Brenda Plummer, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Globalization and Foreign Relations
Thomas Zeiler, University of Colorado, Boulder

State of the Field: Public History

Presiding: Edward T. Linenthal, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh

Patricia West, Martin Van Buren National Historic Site
Dwight Pitcaithley, National Park Service
Rebecca Conard, Middle Tennessee State University
Ann Marie Plane, University of California, Santa Barbara

Offsite Session

The session, "Race, Resistance, and Reconciliation: Japanese American Draft Resisters from World War II," will be held at the Boston Public Library. For more information, see page 14.

Race, Resistance, and Reconciliation: Japanese American Draft Resisters from World War II

Presiding: Arthur Hansen, California State University, Fullerton

Heart Mountain, the Fair Play Committee, and the Limits of Reconciliation
Frank S. Emi, Heart Mountain Fair Play Committee

Beyond Heart Mountain: The Tusconians
Cherstin M. Lyon, University of Arizona

Born in the U.S.A.
Frank Chin, Independent Activist/Writer

Comment: Martha Minow, Harvard Law School

Building Sites of Conscience: Making Historic Sites Centers for Civic Engagement

Ruth J. Abram, Lower East Side Tenement Museum
Marla Miller, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

A key to the sessions . . .

Focus on Teaching

State-of-the-Field

Graduate Student

Public History

Film Screening

History and Memory Series

A Revolution in American Views of Chief Justice John Marshall: An Experiment in Teaching Historical Research to Undergraduates

Presiding: Frank Williams, Supreme Court of Rhode Island

Overview of the Marshall Project
Jon Alexander, Providence College

Early Views of John Marshall
Bryan Cyr, Providence College

Views of Marshall in Death Notices (1835)
Edward Bermudez, Providence College

Views of John Marshall by Selected Whigs, Confederates, Republicans, and Nineteenth-Century Serials
Jason Ulatowski, Providence College

Views of John Marshall by Selected Late Nineteenth-Century and Progressive Writers
Joanna Von Hollen, Providence College

Comment: Patricia R. Hill, Wesleyan University; Richard Rodriguez, Western New Mexico University; and Frank Williams

MERLOT and History: Blueprint for the Future

Moderator: William Paquette, Tidewater Community College

Tracy Penny Light, University of Waterloo, Canada
Cindy Poe, University of Wisconsin
Elsa Nystrom, Kennesaw State University
Trevor Getz, San Francisco State University

Workshop: Communism, Espionage, and The Cold War

Moderator: David J. Vigilante, National Center for History in the Schools

Communism, Espionage, and The Cold War
Robert W. Gabrick, White Bear Lake High School

Participants on the workshop, "Communism, Espionage, and The Cold War," will have materials available online.

Saturday Receptions

5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

The Charles Warren Center for Studies in American History and the Atlantic History Seminar will host a reception for current and former fellows, seminar, and workshop participants and guests.

6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

OAH International Committee
OAH Public History Committee
Focus on Teaching
OAH Distinguished Members

▼ 7:30 p.m.

OAH Awards Ceremony and Presidential Address

The Long Civil Rights Movement:
Contested Past,
Contingent Future

Jacquelyn Dowd Hall,
University of North Carolina,
Chapel Hill

Presiding: James O. Horton,
OAH President-Elect, The George
Washington University

Immediately following the address, OAH President Jacquelyn Dowd Hall invites you to a reception in her honor.

▼ 9:00 a.m.

Voluntary Societies in U.S. History: Recent Reconsiderations

Presiding: Nancy A. Hewitt, Rutgers University

Philanthropy and the Rise of Civil Society in the Early National Years
Kathleen McCarthy, City University of New York Graduate Center

The Challenges of Writing a "Holistic" History of Voluntary Societies
Bruce Dorsey, Swarthmore College

Women's Voluntary Organizations in the Early Republic
Anne Boylan, University of Delaware

In the Company of Black People: Voluntarism and the Forging of African Communities in the Americas
Craig Wilder, Dartmouth College

Comment: Nancy A. Hewitt

Capstone Conversation: Emerging Issues in the Study of American Historical Memory

Discussants: W. Fitzhugh Brundage, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; Lydia Otero, University of Arizona; and David Glassberg, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

A continental breakfast will be provided during this capstone session on public history and memory. The breakfast is hosted by the National Council on Public History.

Sunday Morning
Meetings

8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.
OAH Business Meeting

9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
OAH Executive Board

History
Memory

